

This Week's Service

Sunday, August 15th at 10:30 am
In-Person at the Meetinghouse
(also, on Zoom)

This Sunday: Join Service Leader Gwen Taylor, Worship Associate Kent Zimmerman, and Musician Robert Jacobs at the Meetinghouse or on Zoom for Poetry Sunday, our annual celebration of the power of poetry to inspire, delight, and touch our hearts.

Important Note: For the coming few weeks, we do not have a paid childcare provider to stay with children on the playground, porch, or indoors. We welcome children in the Sanctuary, but strongly suggest you bring activities for them to pass the time if the service doesn't keep their attention. We expect to announce the return of our qualified, paid childcare assistant as soon as possible.

If you plan to join us on Zoom, follow this link:

UU Forward Together has a new name!

It is now UU Justice NC which better reflects the core identities: We are Unitarian Universalists, working for Justice, in North Carolina.

This new title is also similar to the names of fellow UU State Action Networks across the country like UU Justice Ohio and UU Justice Arizona and makes us more recognizable to partners both nationally and in our state. To subscribe to the monthly newsletter: CLICK HERE

Rev. David's Quote of the Week

Theological Frederick Buechner (b.1926) wrote:

"Idolatry is the practice of ascribing absolute value to things of relative worth. Under certain circumstances money, patriotism, sexual freedom, moral principles, family loyalty, physical health, social or intellectual preeminence, and so on are fine things to have around, but to make them the standard by which all other values are measured, to make them your masters, to look to them to justify your life and save your soul is sheerest folly. They just aren't up to it."

What does the phrase "absolute value" mean to you? What do you look to as the ultimate source of meaning and value, which you measure everything else by? How do you find a place in your life to be deliberately in touch with your own source of "absolute value?"
